CUSTOM SOLUTIONS

We take technology very seriously. We will invest enough time to get to know you, your project, your company, and your industry. Only then, we will suggest the tools, technologies, and frameworks to accomplish your goals.

We tackle each project with a brand-new canvas. It is this approach that allows us to be completely flexible. Only after doing a full assessment, we work with you on creating the right support/development program to take care of your project.

ONSHORE

Offshoring a project to companies overseas comes with an immediate communication challenge. You simply cannot keep full control of your project when your development team is working with a 12+ hour difference and at a 14+ hour flight of distance.

By bringing our development center closer to you, our onshore concept provides all the advantages of outsourcing while keeping the convenience of having the team closer to you. We are capable of deploying resources onsite or offsite, serve as an extension of your current team, or simply help you support your current group with practically non-existing cultural barrier.

CORE COMPETENCIES

User Experience Research & Design

We work with you to understand your end users and research to create an end product tailored to their wants and needs.

Custom Software Development

After a “deep dive” into your wants and needs, our 100% in-house experts will deliver exactly what you’re looking for.

Quality Assurance Testing

We make sure that every element of your software is up to the highest standards. It not only has to look right but also must perform in the best capacity possible.

Responsive Design

We ensure that the design looks good and functions properly in every environment — considering all screen sizes, orientations, etc.

Cloud Development

With our team’s cloud development capabilities, you will have no worries about infrastructure, outsourcing, or quality. We work with you to minimize costs and take full advantage of today’s technologies.

On-Call Project Management

A dedicated project manager and account service team will work closely with you from kickoff meeting to launch and will make sure you’re up-to-date during the entire project.

PLATFORMS

One of our main differentiators is versatility and independency. By not being associated with any of the major software houses we are capable of being fully focused on your needs. We have no obligation of upselling software licenses or services to you. Whatever your needs may be, our team of specialists will have complete creative freedom with no commercial commitment, which allows us to work on the best platforms for your project.
